Challenging. Part One

The cast:

Captain (Team A)

Captain (Team B)

Captain (Team C)

We challenge the team A to problem No. 3

The Opponent
to problem No.
3 will be Luke Skywalker

We accept the challenge. The Speaker to problem No. 3 will be Darth Vader

The Reviewer
to problem No.
3 will be Princess Leia

Opponent cannot challenge Speaker with the problems that:

- 1) Speaker's team rejected beforehand;
- 2) was already reported by the Speaker's team;
- 3) ~~was already played in the cycle~~

Challenging. Part Two

At Qualifying Games each team member can be:

1 - S; 1 - O; 2 - R

The Speaker's Report

The cast:

Speaker (Team A)

My name is Bond. James Bond

Volume up!

10 min

Here you can see the cloud and the lighting. What a perfect day to have barbeque!

Present:

- 1) the essence of the problem and what is required to be solved;
- 2) the literature overview;
- 3) the essence of the solution; the possible implementation; strengths and weaknesses; alternative solutions;
- 4) the conclusions of your work: what is proposed and why

Applause!

The report is finished!

"Speaker-Opponent Polemics"

The cast:

Speaker (Team A)

Opponent (Team B)

4 min

4 min

- 1) good drinks;
- 2) good company
- 3) rainstorm

Is that science? really?

What are the key factors to have barbeque at rainstorm?

This part shows the ability to:

- 1) handle the scientific part of the problem under discussion;
- 2) quickness and correctness of response

The Opponent's Speech

The cast:

Opponent (Team B)

5 min

The Speaker did a great job. Unfortunately he missed some important piers. They are...

Key things to mention:

- 1) if the Speaker have understood the essence of the problem;
- 2) if the literature overview done properly, if it was useful;
- 3) if the solution fully or partly complies to the stated problem; if the solution has the strong scientific board; if it could be implemented; if any alternative were evaluated;
- 4) if the conclusions adequate and the problem is solved

Applause!

The opposition is finished!

The Reviewer's Speech

The cast:

Reviewer (Team C)

4 min

The Speaker did a great literature overview. However the solutions is a crap.

The Opponent pointed out some mistakes in the solution. But he did not pay attention to the alternatives

Applause!

The review is completed!

Key things to mention:

- 1) how fully the problem is solved;
- 2) how well the Speaker coped with the role;
- 3) how well the Opponent coped with the role

Triple Polemics

The cast:

Speaker (Team A)

Opponent (Team B)

Reviewer (Team C)

Dear Speaker, don't you think that your solution is controversial?

6 min

I don't think so.
We chose factors A, D, E and proved that this is right

But still factor B, in my opinion is important because...

The clue is to correspond to unresolved issues and to defend the proposed statements.

Questions & Comments from Jury

The cast:

Speaker (Team A)

Opponent (Team B)

Reviewer (Team C)

Expert

Dear Speaker, what is, in your opinion, the perfect formula for the drug?

8 min

Dear Opponent, why do you think that the alternative B is better than A?

Dear Reviewer, you mentioned the importance of the number of parameters. In your opinion, what is the most and why?

Scoring

The cast:

Semifinal

Semifinalists (6 teams), obtained the highest scores (calculated including the personal marks), during the qualifying games are selected for participation in the Semifinal.

The Semifinal is played as 1 cycle in 2 sections (3 teams per section). Block Y is played in the Semifinal.

All the other rules are the same as for qualifying games.

Final

On the basis of the results of the Semifinal, 3 teams with the highest scores are selected for participation in the Final round.

The Final consists of 1 cycle. Both block X and Y is played.

At the Final, each team determines the task it will report itself.

Finalist have to announce numbers of relevant tasks immediately after the announcement results of Semifinal. Task's numbers are announced in order of decreasing the ranking after Semifinal.

The team does not have the right to choose the task, which has been previously selected by another team.
